

PrimeResource Overview

Greenway's PrimeResource program is designed to accommodate Greenway's continued growth and ensure we have the appropriate resources to best educate our customers. PrimeResource currently represents over 25 years of Greenway knowledge and expertise which come from 8 Greenway Certified Resources known as (GCRs). As part of the PrimeResource program you must take a series of certification classes which will qualify you to be a GCR. Once you have your GCR qualifications, you are then able to submit requests for open projects. We look forward to growing this program to ensure our customers have the most qualified GCRs onsite for their initial implementation of PrimeSuite and for their continued long term business plan with Greenway Medical Technologies.

PrimeResource is designed for industry experts who are looking to become Greenway educators for Greenway customers and for current Greenway employees who are available to only work on a limited basis and need to be in more control of their schedule.
